Councillors differ on three year term

More time to learn, some say. Others fear getting stuck with 'duds'

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Three year terms for municipal politicians could be detrimental to the public's interest if "duds" are elected, some area council members said Tuesday. While a number of politicians agree on this concern, others feel having a longer period of time to deal with important projects would be beneficial.

In telephone interviews, area politicians were split on proposed provincial legislation that would see the municipal term extended to three years from two.

"It has its pros and cons...

if you get a dud on there you're stuck," Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Ed Pergolas said.

Although he estimated it takes new councillors between three and 12 months "before they know the ropes," Pergolas couldn't see the possibility of a large project arising that would require council's attention for three years.

"I think that I'd be against it. If they're good enough, they'll be re-elected and if they're not (good), hopefully they won't be (re-elected)," Pergolas said.

Ron Gambell, reeve of Lutterworth Township, echoed Pergolas's remarks, noting that longer terms would work if they encouraged better people to run for municipal councils.

"If you get good people you'd be alright for five years, but if you get a bad person, one year is too much," he said.

Gambell said the problem with the present two year term is that new councillors spend a year learning their duties and in the second year they are concerned about being re-elected.

Search called off when missing man found at home

An extensive search for a man reported missing in the Oxtongue Lake area was called off last Tuesday morning after the man was discovered at his Toronto residence.

The incident began at 10 p.m. last Monday when a Mike Novak reported that Larry Sorrichetti, 23, was missing from their rented cottage near Highway 60 in the northwest corner of the county.

Novak told police that Sorrichetti had left his wife and child at the cottage and gone hiking at about 2 p.m. and had not returned.

Investigating officer Jim Solway organized a pre-dawn search which included four officers from the Minden detachment, the canine team from Peterborough, and eventually, two OPP helicopters.

Solway also requested OPP at Downsview to check Sorrichetti's Toronto address.

At 11 a.m. Tuesday, Downsview detachment reported that the missing man had been located at his residence. He had apparently hitch-hiked to Huntsville where he boarded a bus to reach Toronto.

Police say Sorrichetti would not explain why he had left the area without notifying anyone.

No charges were laid.

Acid rain plea delivered

U.S. Congressional aides see MOE research

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Sulfate emissions from industrial smokestacks must be reduced if the effects of acid precipitation in Canada are to decrease, Dr. Tom Brydges told United States government representatives, last Friday morning.

Speaking from a creek bed which at times during the year carries water that can kill a fish within 24 hours, the head of the limnology and toxicity department of the provincial ministry of the environment said sulfate, not nitrate, was causing most of the damage in Canadian water and water shed areas.

"We believe that sulfate is our problem," Brydges told the 15 delegates.

The delegates were part of the first Canada/U.S. acid rain briefing held throughout the province for three days last week. They met with officials in Toronto at the Atmospheric Advisory Centre on the first day of their visit. Later the same day they were flown from Toronto, over the Sudbury area and then returned to Bracebridge for a private dinner meeting with politicians from Muskoka District and Haliburton County. Friday, the delegates toured the Plastic Lake site of the Acid Precipitation in Ontario Study (APOS) and also the towns of Dorset.

They then travelled back to Bracebridge and flew to Ottawa for another round of talks with government officials.

Walter Giles, assistant deputy minister at the ministry of environment, said at the Plastic Lake site Friday that this was the first "full scale" briefing between representatives from the United States and Canadian scientists.

"It's an exchange of information... we hope it will give them a better understanding of why we think it (acid precipitation research) is important," Giles said.

When the delegates return to the U.S., Giles said they "will be advising key Americans on what Canada is talking about."

The delegates were given a tour of the terrestrial testing area where precipitation is gathered after it drops through the forest cover and also as it runs down the trunks of trees. The congressional aides were told that investigation into this branch of the environment is just beginning and a cooperative laboratory study is being organized with five U.S. laboratories and the ministry's staff.

This new study will see radishes grown in "rain chambers" which simulate acid rain falling on the plants. Because varying methods are applied in different laboratories, results are sometimes conflicting but the cooperative testing will be done under almost identical circumstances, Ministry staff told the delegates.

Asked by the delegates why radishes were used, the ministry representative said: "It's just a start. We'll probably move into conifers next."

The terrestrial testing has opened a number of doors on the acid rain study as researchers find that 98 per cent of the sulfate and nitrate soaked up by the soil and trees, Dr. Brydges told the Americans.

"Most of the acid is being neutralized on an annual basis," Dr. Brydges said.

"Lord save us, if the other 98 per cent ever comes through," he told the delegates.

Man killed in mishap at mill

Attempting to free log, worker thrown into blade

A 31 year old Donald area man died Friday morning when he fell into a whirling saw blade at the Pelaw Logging Ltd. mill a mile north of Haliburton Village.

Donald Ross Shaw Jr., an employee at the mill, was assisting in efforts to free a stuck log when the machinery lurched into gear, throwing him into the blade. He died instantly.

Coroner Dr. Blair Pierce of Haliburton attended the scene and ordered a post mortem examination.

Operations at the mill have been curtailed pending an investigation by the Ontario Ministry of Labour.

Shaw is survived by his wife Velda (Stevenson), and three children, Virginia, Angela and Donny.

He was the son of Donald Shaw Sr. and Doris (Wilkinson), the great grandson of Maude Wilkinson, and the brother of Richard and Mildred (Mrs. D. Webb).

Cause of illness remains a mystery

Laboratory tests so far have been unable to confirm a suspected food poisoning incident at an area camp two weeks ago.

Bob MacNaull, chief public health inspector with the Haliburton office of the district health unit, said Tuesday that laboratory reports on food samples taken at the camp "don't seem to show a thing."

Test results on vomitus and stool samples taken from illness are not yet available, "so we really don't have a

'Terry Fox Run' set for next Sunday

Participants will cover 10 km. to raise funds for cancer research

Local citizens of all ages are being urged to run, jog or walk a 10 kilometre route in the Haliburton area on Sunday, September 13 to raise funds to help the fight against cancer.

Dubbed the Terry Fox run in honour of the nation's most famous cancer victim and cancer fund raiser, the Haliburton run is one of more than 200 that will take place around the province one week from Sunday.

A registration fee of $5 will be charged to enter the run, but the amount is considered a minimum, and organizers are hoping people planning to take part will seek pledges to boost the amount raised.

Pledge sheets for the run are available at the Echo office in Haliburton, Northland Surplus in Minden, and at chartered banks in both communities.

Registration will take place from noon to 1 p.m. in front of the Highlands Squash Club, and the run will get underway at 1 p.m.

The 10 kilometre (or 6.5 mile) route will take participants around the shore of Head Lake, through Walling's field to Glebe Park, along Highway 519 for a short distance to the Roberts Farm, through the farm to the Harburn Road, and thence back to the finish line in the village.

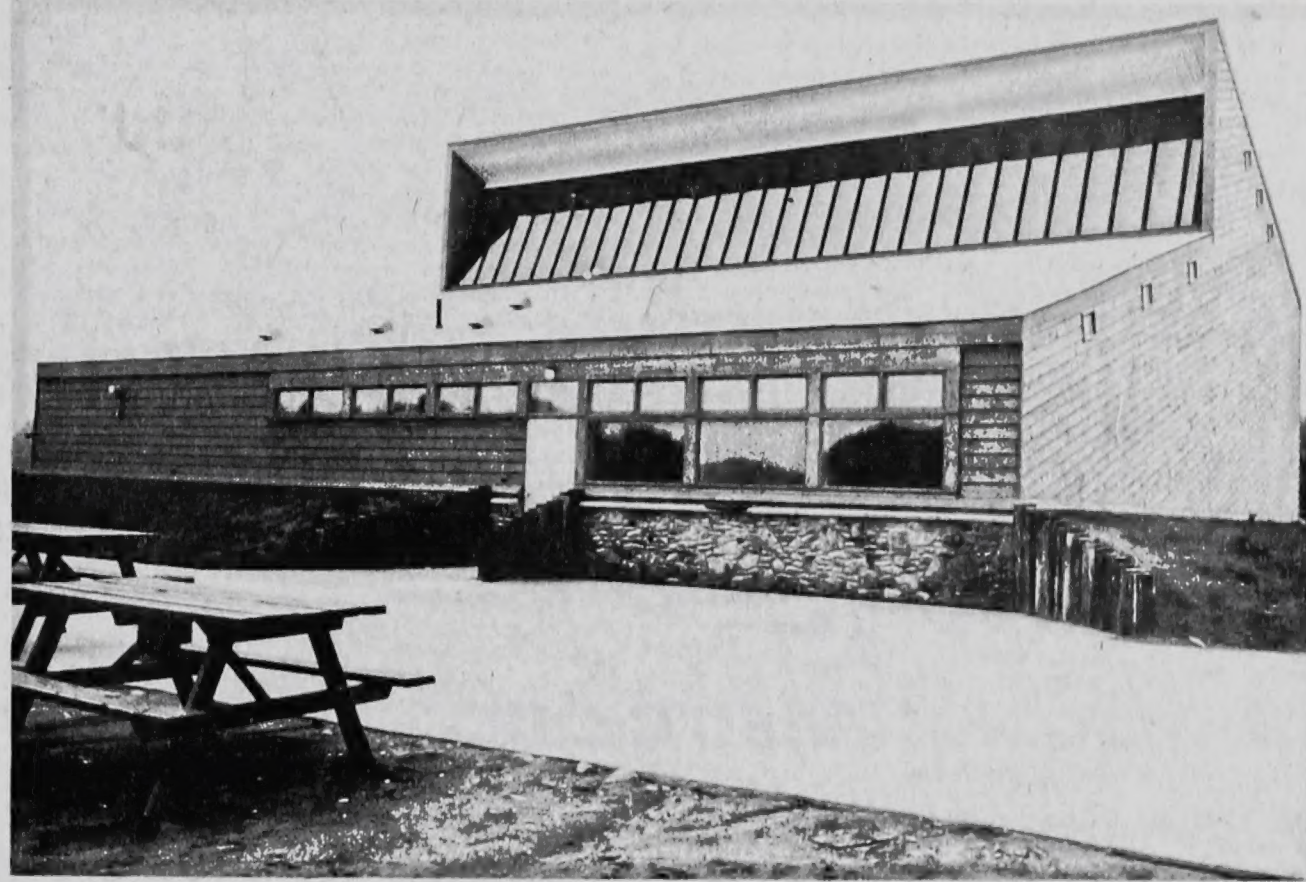

While some experienced runners may want to test themselves over the distance, aiming for a good finishing time, the Terry Fox Run is not a race. No prizes will be awarded and no one should be discouraged from taking part because they are not regular joggers. Walk the distance if you want to; the important thing is to raise as much money as possible for cancer research.

Why not pick up a pledge sheet and get started? More information on the run will be available next week.

This cabin near Gooderham was completely demolished by the township road grader. The grader was stolen from the township yard, driven two miles and then thieves ruined the building. Police are investigating the incident.

After three years of work, the Glamorgan community centre is scheduled to open September 12 at the building in Gooderham. The new centre is partially solar heating.

County artist to highlight Kinmount Fair

Top notch entertainment, a demolition derby and the magnificent Carlsberg team and wagon will be among the attractions featured at the upcoming Kinmount Fair.

Recognized as one of the best small town agricultural fairs in the province, the Kinmount Fair gets bigger every year, offering more attractions and competitions. This year there will be two full days of activities, offering something of interest for just about everyone.

The fair gets underway this coming Saturday morning as exhibitors from the surrounding area arrive early to get their horses and livestock ready for the day's competition.

At 11 a.m. the exhibit hall will open and fair goers will get their first chance to see baking, vegetables, flowers and home handicrafts in the running for scores of prizes and ribbons.

Action in the livestock judging rings will commence at 11:30 a.m. and continue throughout the early afternoon.

One of the fair's most popular traditions, the Warriors Day parade, featuring representatives of various Legions, as well as horses, floats, antique cars and marching bands, will begin moving toward the fairgrounds at 12:30 p.m. The parade will end up in front of the grandstand, where ceremonies to officially open the fair will take place.

Throughout the day a midway will be in operation, as will a host of food concessions and commercial displays.

The days when agriculture ran on steam will be recalled by a traction engine that will be linked up to power a sawmill and a shingle mill. Both mills will be in operation at various times throughout the day.

At 2 p.m. an amateur talent program featuring entertainers from the area will get underway, then followed by the fair's feature act, Eddie Eastman, winner of the Juno award for the top country male artist of 1980.

Following the show, the centre of attention will shift to the main judging ring, where the heavy horse draw will get underway. Matched teams of Belgians, Percherons, Clydesdales and other work horses, weighing a ton or more each, will strain to pull a weighted boat over the measured distance. The top team may have to draw more than five tons to take first prize.

Rounding out the day's activities will be a dance beginning at 9 p.m. featuring Eddie Eastman.

Glamorgan road grader stolen, used to destroy unoccupied cabin

A cabin in Glamorgan Township was completely destroyed early last week when a stolen road grader slammed into it.

Police discovered the incident after Vince Billings, a township employee, reported that two tires on the municipality's road grader had been flattened.

Subsequent investigation revealed that someone had stolen the grader, driven it two miles down a side road and demolished the cabin.

The building, situated at Lot 34, concession 5, was owned by a resident of West Germany.

The incident remains under investigation.

Briefly

Two charged with theft

Two Willowdale men were charged with theft after a sign four feet by five feet reading 'Open' was recovered from the rear of their van. Police say the incident occurred in the parking lot of the Brown Owl Restaurant in Minden on Sunday morning. The sign had apparently been stolen from the adjacent Maggies Take Out restaurant. Charged with theft of the sign, valued at $100, were James M. McNeillage, 27, and Joseph P. Toule, 24.

Lost and Found

Three wallets, two licence plates and two drivers licences were reported lost in the county over the past week. In the found department were a purse, a camera and a boat and motor.

Numerous items stolen

Thefts around the county in the past week included a boat steering wheel, an electric outboard motor, a car battery, an outboard motor, a mail box (which was recovered), two quarts of oil (also recovered), a road grader (recovered), a motorcycle, a flag, a cement lion, a tire and rim, an ice cooler, a bicycle (recovered), a purse, a quantity of gas, and assorted thefts of cash.

Local youths charged

Police have charged four Haliburton area youths in connection with a number of complaints about a group of 'unruly' youths creating a nuisance in the vicinity of the Haliburton ball diamond and the Sky Slider.

Police say baseball games have been disrupted and fights have been picked with local youths. Charged were Floyd Brett Hie, 19, breach of probation and causing a disturbance; Drayton Bonyun, 18, breach of probation and causing a disturbance; Sheldon Murray, 16, causing a disturbance; and Shaughan Wilson, 17, causing a disturbance.

Library gets grant

The Monmouth Library in Wilberforce has received a grant of $287 from the Ontario Arts Council under its touring arts fund.

The Monmouth Library was the only local organization to receive a portion of the $4,310,998 the council is handing out to 256 artists and 360 arts organizations across the province this year.

Eleven accidents reported

A total of 131 general occurrences were investigated by officers of the Minden OPP detachment between August 24 and August 30.

The occurrences included 19 thefts, 11 lost and found occurrences, eight damage complaints, seven domestic disputes, three break and enters, three compassionate messages delivered, and two impaired drivers charged.

Eleven motor vehicle accidents were also investigated, of which eight were reportable. Two persons were injured.

Minden fills recreation committee

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has filled the vacancy on the Minden recreation committee which was created when Ken Bannan resigned earlier this year.

Yvonne Penney, representing the Carnarvon area, will now be sitting at the monthly meetings. A resolution approving the appointment was passed at council's regular meeting last Wednesday.

the terrestrial research being conducted in the Plastic Lake water shed area.

Several say two year term long enough election year is 'yes'. They're scared of the election, it's terrible. I don't like it," Gambell said, referring to politicians who serve on councils around the county.

Gambell said he would only like to see the longer term instituted if it could guarantee competent people would run for office.

Although Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman said a three year term could be beneficial "in the long run", he thought a three year commitment might sway some interested citizens from seeking election.

"My biggest concern would be the commitment. You're asking someone to commit themselves for three years," Tallman said.

By the third year of office a council would be running very efficiently if top people had been elected, Tallman said. He also noted the three year term would save at least $1,000 for every election that was unnecessary. For that reason, he felt pressure for the legislation was coming from metropolitan centres where elections are expensive.

"Elections are certainly costly," he noted.

At the other end of the county, Stanhope reeve Jim Harrison said: "A two year term is better." He refused to make any further comment.

In Glamorgan Township, reeve Ken Maguire had mixed feelings on the matter, although he felt the present system might be the best.

"Two years works pretty good. I think it should stay at a two year term," he said.

Maguire noted that newly elected representatives might not be happy with a three year term if they decided municipal politics was not their interest.

"For newcomers it would be better, if they enjoyed it. But it can be a long time if they don't," Maguire said.

He said the three year term would allow new council members to understand the system better and make worthwhile contributions.

Dysart et al deputy reeve Harold Bannan was in favour of the proposed legislation.

He said it would allow council members to deal with long term projects more effectively. He cited Head Lake park as a project that would be better dealt with during a three year term.

"I think it's a good idea. It has its merits," Bannan said.

As well as allowing councillors more time to work on projects once they understand the system, Bannan said a longer term would save the municipality approximately $8,000 to $10,000 for every election that is eliminated.

"I've been looking for it to be four years like the MP's (members of parliament)," Bannan added.

In recent public announcements Claude Bennett, minister of intergovernmental affairs, said the legislation could be passed this year unless he receives objections from the public.

Contractor wants more for work

Because Ministry of Natural Resources restrictions altered plans for dredging of a public beach on Lake Kashagawigamog after tenders had been received, the contractor is now asking Anson, Hindon and Minden council to increase his remuneration.

Ron Bolender approached council at its regular meeting, Wednesday night requesting $640 for dredging he completed at a municipal access point on Lake Kashagawigamog about 2 miles east of Ingoldsby on South Kashagawigamog Road.

Problems with the cost of the work arose when the MNR, which investigates all work carried out on shorelines in the area, said debris from the dredging would have to be placed 50 feet back from the shoreline. As a result, more trees had to be cut and Bolender had to spend more time in the crane, he told council.

"That wasn't what I priced the job out at," he said.

When the MNR's conditions of approval were set down, Bolender said he discussed the matter with municipal by-law enforcement officer, Dick Schell. Schell suggested Bolender keep track of the additional hours the work required, the contractor told council.

"I was sure it would be taken care of," Bolender said. But when he received payment, the additional $640 for the extra work was not included. Although he claimed the work took 29 extra hours, Bolender said he dropped the bill 20 hours at $32 an hour to make it fairer for both parties.

"I think it's quite fair under the circumstances," Bolender told council.

Deputy reeve, Doug Pritchard questioned whether Bolender had the right to ask for more money after he had set his tender price.

"If you have a contract with a person you can't go back and charge another $600 or $700," Pritchard told Bolender.

But council did not rule out paying the extra money. Instead, it deferred the matter until Schell returns from holidays and can be consulted on his understanding of the situation.

Minden gets funds for new by-law

The wheels are moving and it looks like Anson, Hindon and Minden is one step closer to having a new comprehensive zoning by-law for the municipality.

Council will be receiving a 75 per cent subsidy on the $12,500 it will cost to have Proctor and Redfern consultants write the new by-law. The Community Planning Study Grant will also cover costs of mailing the by-law to all property owners in the townships.

Stanhope council minutes

Council had no objection to a proposal by G. Desroche to construct a Gabion Basket Retaining Wall on Kushog Lake fronting part lot 3 concession 7 as outlined on a sketch dated June 27, 1981 conditional upon any other necessary approval being obtained.

Council had no objection to a proposal from Kushog Island Bridge Inc., to occupy a water lot for the purpose of constructing a private bridge at a location described as CL 2120 on a plan prepared by the Ministry of Natural Resources dated March 19, 1981 providing all ratepayers on the island and adjacent land owners on the mainland are in agreement. It is understood that all necessary approvals for the structure shall be obtained and the Township of Stanhope is held harmless from any future liability which may arise as a result of this construction.

Council authorized a donation of $25 to the Haliburton County Horticultural Society for the most worthwhile service it is providing in the County and in particular in Stanhope Township.

Council went into the Committee of the Whole with Ron Wrightman at 4 p.m., and adjourned from a Committee of the Whole at 4:35 p.m.

Council went into the Committee of the Whole with Derek Rolfe and Stan Moore at 4:36 p.m. and adjourned from the Committee at 5:35 p.m. reconvening an open general meeting.

By-laws 81-12 to open a part of an original allowance for road to vehicular traffic; 81-13 to adopt a procedure policy for the stopping up, closing and conveying of any original allowance for road and 81-14 to appoint a Welfare Administrator were passed.

OPP brace for weekend, heavy traffic is expected

Labour Day weekend is fast approaching and with the holiday festivities usually come hundreds of car accidents across the province. As usual this long weekend the Minden detachment, along with all detachments in Ontario, will be stepping up patrols in hopes of reducing accidents.

"We're pretty well beefed up on personnel this weekend," Corporal D'Arcy Stevens said Tuesday.

With the number of visitors in the area, the OPP are expecting crowds at the Kinmount Fair and the rock concert in Minden. Although Kinmount is not in the patrol area, Cpl. Stevens said Cobocok detachment requests assistance in the area every year. Last year, labour day traffic in Ontario killed nine people and injured another 636.

"Some causes of serious accidents in Ontario are excessive speed, unsafe lane changes and following too close. Instructions have gone out to the 190 OPP detachments to ensure all members of the Force operating during this period do their utmost to check these contraventions of the law," a press release from general headquarters said this week.

General headquarters also warns motorists that "many patrol cars will be equipped with radar and will operate in areas which have a high accident rate".

Eakins speaks out against new jet

Victoria Haliburton MPP John Eakins has condemned the purchase of a $10.6 million jet by the province's Ministry of Natural Resources for use by Bill Davis and members of his cabinet.

"At a time when the government is operating at a huge deficit and interest rates are at record levels, the government's squandering of over $10 million on a luxury jet is intolerable," Eakins said in a news release this week.

Eakins said the government will have to borrow the money to buy the Challenger jet and that interest charges alone will be more than $1.5 million a year.

"The government could rent a private jet three times a day for trips anywhere in Ontario at the same costs as the interest charges alone on the new airplane," Eakins said.

He noted that the purchase is made even more "ridiculous" by the fact that the Challenger can land at only 22 of Ontario's 78 airports because it needs a 5000 foot long runway to take off and land.

"That means the Town of Lindsay will never be privileged enough to receive a flying visit from the Premier of Ontario because his jet won't be able to land at the town's airport," Eakins said.

Eakins claimed the jet purchase is an abuse of the new power the Conservatives gained when they won a majority in the last election.

"The purchase simply makes no sense at the present time," he said. "It certainly in no way serves the people of Ontario who will be forced to pay for it. It's a strange way for the Tories to keep the promise they made to the voters in March."

Minden supports idea of mortgage relief

Anson, Hindon and Minden council believes "home ownership should be within the grasp of all Canadian families" and has supported a resolution asking for a provincial government low interest mortgage program.

Last Wednesday, council considered a resolution from the Corporation of the Town of Leamington asking for support for the proposed program.

The resolution calls for the establishment of a loan agency with "mortgage rates varying according to family income". The highest interest rates, for those families earning a maximum of $30,000 per year, would equal the value of the province's borrowing rate plus half of one per cent. Interest rates would decrease half of one per cent for each $875 of annual income below $30,000 to a minimum interest rate of 11 per cent. The resolution suggests the rates be fixed for the term of the mortgage and the mortgage would be non-assumable.

The Town of Leamington resolution claims "high interest rates are a burden on prospective home owners".

Anson, Hindon and Minden unanimously approved of the resolution and forwarded a copy to Victoria-Haliburton MPP, John Eakins.

Glamorgan to open centre

After three years of work, politicians, volunteers and property owners in Glamorgan township will be celebrating next weekend as their new community centre officially opens.

The centre, which was estimated to cost about $230,000, is one of only a few buildings in the county with a solar assisted heating system.

The official opening of the centre is scheduled at 4 p.m., September 13 in Gooderham. But residents have planned an entire day of festivities to celebrate the occasion.

A ladies baseball tournament begins at 10 a.m. and it will provide action until Sunday afternoon.

Also at 10 a.m. a snack bar and a flea market will be drawing people to the community centre. At noon an auction will offer bargains that few will want to miss.

The snack bar will be closing at 2 p.m. but don't worry that your taste buds will be neglected; a special dinner is planned for 5:30 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the baseball diamond will be the centre of attention as the antics of donkey baseball entertain the crowd.

Don't miss this day filled with fun as the people of Glamorgan celebrate a memorable event.

DIRECTORY OF COMMUNITY SERVICES - are available from the Libraries in the County at a cost of $2 or phone 457-2941. This Directory would be of help to any business or service organization in Haliburton County.

Minden ponders request for time

Because a plea from a developer for a time extension might leave the door open for future developers to ask for similar extensions on agreements with council, Anson, Hindon and Minden is seeking legal advice on the matter.

John Burns, who has a 12 lot registered plan of subdivision on Bobcaygeon Road, has asked council for a 10 month reprieve on his obligations to surface the road and install streetlights. When the subdivision agreement was made, it stated Burns would only be allowed to sell six lots and obtain two building permits before he would have to meet his obligations.

To date, Burns has sold seven lots and obtained two building permits. He had been notified by letter by the clerk that no further building permits would be issued until the road was completed.

At a meeting last Wednesday, Burns asked to be allowed to extend the completion date for the road to next June and to continue to sell lots and obtain building permits for them.

"I can't sell any lot unless the buyer is guaranteed a building permit," he told council.

But councillor Lyle McKnight, who was not against the extension, was wary of the precedent the council might be setting.

"What ever you offer to Mr. Burns, you've got to be ready to offer to other subdividers," he told the council.

Council discussed the possibility of Burns depositing two lots with the township to ensure the final work would be completed.

"It's a matter of limiting the lots sold to protect ourselves," councillor Ed Pergolas explained.

Because of the problems a wrong decision could create, council deferred the matter until the municipality's legal council could be consulted.

Kinmount Fair set to go this weekend

On Sunday the fair will get underway again at 11 a.m. with a pony show in the judging ring. The midway, steam show, and a natural resources wildlife display will also be open to keep fairgoers busy.

At 1 p.m. the exhibit hall will open once again, and at 2 p.m. one of the fair's biggest crowd pleasers, the demolition derby, will get underway on the track in front of the grandstand.

Following the carnage, an amateur show will be held.

Glamorgan council holds meeting

At a meeting of Glamorgan Township council August 5, the following matters were considered:

Minutes of the Recreation and Community Centre Committee meeting of June 11, 1981 and the Roads and Waste Disposal Committee meeting of July 8, 1981 were approved as circulated.

Charges laid in wake of accident

A Minden area man faces numerous charges in the wake of a single vehicle accident in Minden Village Sunday morning.

Leslie C. Alton, 51, attempted a right turn onto the Bobcaygeon Road from Highway 35 but drove over two traffic islands and into a ditch.

Alton was cut on the head and his 1974 AMC sustained an estimated $1000 damage.

He was charged with impaired driving, driving with a blood alcohol content over .08 mg, driving while suspended, and consuming alcohol while on the interdicted list.

A single car accident on South Water Street in Minden early Saturday morning resulted in a charge of careless driving.

Police say Roy Gorforth, 27, (no address given) missed a curve and struck some guideposts at about 6:15 a.m. Damage to his 1977 Ford was estimated at $800.

A single vehicle accident on the Bethel Church Road in Minden Township last Friday resulted in an estimated $1500 damage.

Vern Witter, 19 of Minden Township swerved to avoid a dog, causing his vehicle to enter a ditch and strike a rock.

A Windsor youth was charged with careless driving early Sunday morning after he swerved to avoid a dead animal and lost control of his 1979 Ford pickup.

Nicholas Rumpfledt, 17, was travelling on the South Kashagawagomog Road near the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course when the mishap occurred.

The vehicle rolled over, causing an estimated $2,500 damage, but none of the four occupants were injured.

A single vehicle accident on Highway 35 near Mountain Lake resulted in a charge of careless driving for a Mississauga woman Friday.

Marion Rolston, 49, lost control of her car on a curve and it rolled down an embankment after knocking down several guard rails.

Police say the 1968 Pontiac was damaged beyond repair. A charge of careless driving was also laid after a single vehicle accident in Stanhope Township Thursday night.

Lisa Dunn, 19, of Toronto was travelling on Kushog

Noise trial postponed again

Almost two years since the charge was laid, the trial to prosecute the Rockcliffe Hotel under the municipal noise by-law has once again been postponed, this time until December.

The trial, which is expected to last an entire day, had been set for yesterday (Tuesday). The new date set for trial is December 1, 1981.

The charge was laid approximately two years ago when Anson, Hindon and Minden council received a written complaint concerning the noise levels emanating from the establishment.

An earlier charge was dropped on a technicality because it had been laid improperly.

SENIORS... ONTARIO PROPERTY TAX GRANT APPLICATIONS.

Last year Ontario replaced its system of Tax Credits for seniors with a new program of Property and Sales Tax Grants to help offset municipal, school and retail sales taxes. The Property Tax Grant of up to $500 per household is provided in two installments annually. The Sales Tax Grant is an automatic $50 paid each year to all Ontario residents 65 and over.

PROPERTY TAX GRANTS

APPLICATIONS

The 1980 Property Tax Grant was paid to recipients in one payment. In 1981, the Grant is being paid in two installments. The first payment, sent automatically in the spring, was equal to one-half the amount of your 1980 Grant.

To qualify for the final installment you must submit an application to the Ministry of Revenue.

If you receive the federal Old Age Security pension, and are eligible, you will receive this application for your Property Tax Grant during the first half of September, 1981. Those who reach the age of 65 between now and December will receive their applications early in 1982.

Seniors who are not eligible for federal Old Age Security payments, but who have previously established eligibility for the Property Tax Grant will also receive an application.

The Ministry of Revenue is mailing applications only to those seniors who are thought to be eligible. If you do not receive an application by September 21 and feel you qualify, please contact our toll-free Information Centre.

ELIGIBILITY

If you're 65 or over and own or rent your home you're eligible for the Property Tax Grant of up to $500.

If you rent your grant will total 20% of your rent or $500, whichever is less.

If you own your principal residence your grant will equal the amount of your property taxes or $500, whichever is less.

If you are married and reside with your spouse or if you share accommodation with someone over 65, only one grant will be paid per household.

If you share your home with anyone over 65 other than your spouse, the grant will be apportioned according to rent or property tax paid.

Take care to complete your application form accurately!

Take a few extra minutes to fill out your application; and then check it again for accuracy. This makes it much easier for the Ministry to process your form and get your cheque to you.

Cheques will be mailed beginning the latter part of October.

EXCEPTIONS

If you reside in a nursing home, a home for the aged or similar institution, you're not eligible for the Property Tax Grant unless you pay for the full cost of your care and the institution pays municipal and school taxes.

If you reside in a tax-exempt property, you are not eligible.

However, if you move into a tax-exempt property or a nursing home, home for the aged or similar institution during 1981, you are eligible for a Property Tax Grant based on your occupancy costs prior to your move.

If you moved permanently to Ontario during 1981, your Property Tax Grant is based on the time you resided in Ontario.

SALES TAX GRANTS

The $50 Sales Tax Grant cheques will be distributed automatically to all Ontario seniors in October.

The high interest rate policy which has prevailed in the United States and Canada in the last few months has drawn a storm of protest from just about every sector of society. Inevitably, it has given rise to numerous suggestions about steps the government could take to ease the burden for farmers, small businesses and home owners. Ideas have ranged from ending the lock step relationship between Canadian and American interest rates, to loan concessions at public expense designed to prop up farmers feeling the credit squeeze and save small businesses on the brink of failure. Lately, however, the bulk of the public's concern has been directed toward the impact of high interest rates on home owners and prospective home buyers. And it is this issue which has spawned the most contentious and occasionally wrongheaded proposals.

The latest scheme to come to light is a resolution from the Town of Leamington which Anson, Hindon and Minden council decided to support at a meeting last Wednesday. The Leamington resolution calls on the government to establish a loan agency to hand out mortgage money at interest rates that would vary according to family income. The maximum rate, they suggest, would apply to people earning no more than $30,000 a year. I would equal the province's borrowing rate plus half of one per cent. Rates would then drop by half a per cent for each $875 decrease in income, to a minimum of 11 per cent. All of this is based on the narrow-minded premise that "home ownership should be within the grasp of all Canadian families".

It is a premise which should not go unchallenged.

In many, if not most other countries, home ownership is not now and never has been within the grasp of every citizen, nor even within the grasp of the majority. Only in Canada, and perhaps the United States, have people come to view home ownership as something approaching a right of citizenship. But that viewpoint is a recent development. Young people who believe they should be able to purchase a home a year or two after they enter the work force should realize that not more than two decades ago the average Canadian could expect to struggle many years to save the downpayment for a modest home. Many people raised families in rental accommodation, and could not hope to acquire a home until they had spent years struggling to gain promotions and the increases that went with them.

Today, many Canadians have apparently lost sight of the fact that major possessions such as a home should be a reward for hard work and success, not a right that comes with entering the work force.

There is no doubt that high interest rates are hurting most people, and that some people will lose their recently acquired homes as a result. But high interest rates are not the result of an isolated policy. They are one consequence of a larger economic malaise, a malaise which will be cured not by the application of bandaids measures but by a change in expectation and attitude. If interest rates are to come down, the performance of the Canadian economy will have to improve. Until it does, the dollar will remain weak and interest rates will have to stay high to keep investment dollars from flowing southward.

A low interest mortgage scheme financed by tax dollars is not many steps removed from government housing for everyone. Do we really want Canada to become a socialist state?

The implementation of a scheme like the one proposed by the Town of Leamington would set an unfortunate precedent. It would not be a temporary measure. Once in place, it would quickly become an accepted part of the socio-economic system; not a benefit to be respected but a 'right' that would be expected.

For a good cause

Next Sunday, local people will have a chance to join hundreds of thousands of others across the country on an officially sanctioned ten kilometre 'Terry Fox Run' to raise funds for cancer research. There can hardly be a more fitting way to pay tribute to one of Canada's greatest citizens that to run, jog or walk the route that will wind a circuitous route around Head Lake to the Harburn Road and back to Haliburton Village.

Participation is the key to making the local run a success. You've got a week and a half to prepare. Why not get started. You don't have to be a regular jogger. You can walk the route if you like. The important thing is to get as many pledges as you can.

Cancer won't be beaten overnight. But without money for research, it will not be beaten at all. Support the Terry Fox Run September 13. You'll feel better for it, in more ways than one.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Haliburton, Ontario is a beautiful place to live. We know. My husband and I love it so much, we went through a year of red tape and breathholding for the privilege of immigrating here. We have found peace of mind, a better set of values, and a whole new way of life.

Some of our American friends recently asked us if we had encountered any negative reactions from the local citizens. I was very pleased to tell them that Haliburton was the most welcoming place we'd ever lived.

Not only are our neighbours and acquaintances friendly, but they are willing to go miles out of their way and to a great deal of trouble to help us without being asked. For that we both thank you.

There is something needed here. Many people have small farms and the need for barn cats. Unfortunately, they are very reproductive, and people are forced to do away with many kittens, as it is impossible to keep them all. Also, the cost makes spaying or neutering prohibitive.

Now that you know I'm stuck on animals - Is it possible that this area could support a three or four times a year neutering clinic to help stem this population explosion?

Perhaps some last year veterinary students could participate for the experience. While they were at it, they could give the cats a general check-up, and give rabies shots. It seems to me, stray or unwanted animals would be more apt to contact rabies, so this could be a double advantage.

To the Editor:

We have been given permission by Dr. T. Brydges of the M.O.E. to clarify certain ambiguous statements in the recent press release of their new Five Year Research Project into Acid Rain and Lake Neutralization.

They wish us to point out that they do not intend to use lime or unslaked lime in any of their experiments. They agree that these compounds are contra-indicated in these procedures.

They also wish to point out that contrary to published newspaper reports, they will be studying winter liming methods along with summer ones.

They do not wish to indicate in any way, that they either feel that the use of Limestone has dangerous side-effects or that they possess any data that so indicates such effects.

They also wish to point out that this project will examine carefully all aspects of a practical method of introducing Limestone into a water system along with a full study of the effects of limestone on lake and stream biota. Both areas of research will be fully explored.

They will keep the public informed in an on-going data release as they proceed with their research.

We hope that this will help clarify any misconceptions that the public may have gained from reading the press release itself.

A proposal that should be rejected

Editor's Notebook

by LEN PIZZEY

It was with a mixture of surprise, dismay and faint hope that I read a press release from the province's Ministry of Education this week. According to the release, a committee of school trustees, ministry officials and parents has recommended that trustees be allowed to set their own remuneration.

At the moment, a trustee's remuneration is spelled out clearly in the Education Act. Based on the number of pupils under a board's jurisdiction, trustees' pay ranges from $100 a month to $600 a month. Haliburton County trustees received $200 a month until this year, when enrolment fell below 2000 students. Now, in accordance with the Act, they receive the minimum of $100 a month.

But according to the press release the committee has recommended "a base amount of $400 a month, with each board being free to establish additional amounts".

Needless to say I was surprised to read the release, because I had thought that in times of economic restraint, education ministry officials would not advocate that if the increases are implemented a school board seat could become attractive to some people on the basis of pay, when concern for the community should be the main motivation for wanting to sit on the board.

But I also held out faint hope that the information in the release was incorrect; that what the committee recommended was not a $400 a

As far as the summer season is concerned we are drawing within days now of the Labour Day weekend which signifies the end of the two busy holiday months of July and August. All that will be left after this weekend will be the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the old cry of 'wait til next year'. Come this Monday it will be time to say good-bye to many of our summer visitors who have been with us during the summer months and others who have only been here for a week or two. We hope that you have enjoyed your holiday with us and that you will keep returning in the fall and during the winter months. The fall is usually one of the nicest times of the year here in the Highlands of Haliburton when the leaves turn into brilliant colours, leaving with us a spectacle to behold. We have a great many attractions lined up for you this winter and if you are one that likes to do things on your own there is downhill skiing at Sir Sam's Inn, cross country skiing, skating, hockey, curling, snowmobiling and you name it and we have it right here in the Highlands of Haliburton. As for this fall is concerned you won't want to miss having a ride on the Haliburton's spectacular Sky Slider which will be open as long as the weather permits. And to top it all off we have modern facilities throughout the Highlands that will make your winter visit one that you will never forget. So why not come back and join us. You can rest assured that we will treat you royally and we will be looking forward to seeing you.

We received word last week that David L. Currie of 182 Endicott Street, Beachmont, who is the son of Mrs. Marion L. Currie and the late Albert S. Currie of Soyers Lake, Haliburton, Ontario has joined the Management Consulting Firm of Positions Inc. in Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A. A specialist in the Data Processing area, David Currie will be responsible for continued staffing consulting among additional duties of recruiting competent professionals for the computer industry in the programming, systems and management disciplines. Positions, Inc. is a major employment consulting service in the area providing full service in Engineering, Data processing and Administrative disciplines. Their offices are located in principal cities in New England.

Mrs. Dave Burk of Lochlin, Ontario phoned me one day last week to let me know that she saw a hummingbird out on her lawn last Thursday afternoon. She was telling me that its quite unusual to see a hummingbird flying around at this time of year.

It's time once again for the annual Kinmount Fair, "The Fair With The Forward Look". Yes all roads this weekend will lead to the village of Kinmount for the big event that takes place on Saturday and Sunday September 5 and 6. The Kinmount Fair is one of the best in Ontario and each year it draws thousands of people to its many splendid attractions. We understand that the Fair in Kinmount now rates in the top 10 for the best fairs and exhibitions in Ontario. It's coming very close to pulling by the Peterborough Exhibition. This annual fall event, which is spearheaded by Bill Scott, our local M.P., is backed by a strong executive and a lot of willing workers each year, who try to make the fair just a little bit better. This year Juno award winner country male artist for 1980 Eddie Eastman will be the main attraction on the grandstand on Saturday and a Car Demolition Derby will be featured on Sunday afternoon. There are just a couple of the main features at this year's Kinmount Fair, there are many more. Why not treat yourself to two days of great fun and excitement at this year's outstanding fair?

Dinner and an enjoyable evening were enjoyed by the members of the Rotary Club of Haliburton when they were invited to Camp Illahee on Drag Lake on Thursday evening, August 20. Following a rousing sing-song everyone present enjoyed a tour around the camp and a trip around Drag Lake on the barge which was donated by the Rotary Club. There are approximately 62 campers, 30 counselors and 15 office staff, which consists of an administrator and a full time doctor and two assistants. This camp, which commenced operation in Haliburton approximately three years ago, previously had been situated in Cobourg on Lake Ontario for quite a number of years. It is a great benefit to all the young people with various respiratory, kidney and other diseases which prevent them from going to a regular outdoor camp.

Ralph Bice of Kearney, Ontario and a former resident of Haliburton County with relatives in both Haliburton and West Guilford, has written a book, "Along The Trail with Ralph Bice in Algonquin Park." It's a delightful book and anyone who loves the outdoors is sure to find it interesting. The book features among other things material on the Haliburton trappers and photos include Isaac Boice, Wes and Bill Boice, James Sawyer (Ben's father) plus many others of general interest. We understand that the book which was published by a publishing firm in Scarborough, Ontario is selling for the price of 19 by mail.

All those who worked and helped in any way at this year's Minden Rotary Carnival were invited to the regular meeting of the club held at the Minden Community Centre on Monday evening, August 24. Jack MacGregor from Camp Kandalore and a member of the Minden Rotary Club gave a very interesting talk following a delicious Italian supper prepared by the caterer Ed Pergolas.

I have just been asked to announce that all sweaters that are still out should be returned to the Haliburton Minor Softball. They can be left with Nancy at Nancy's Flowers at Haliburton.

VIEWPOINT

Pic of the Past

This coming Saturday and Sunday, September 5 and 6 one of the biggest small town fairs in Ontario will be held in Kinmount. In an effort to try and promote the big event we thought it would be a good time to run this photo showing Mr. Herbert Hancock sitting on a chair going down the Burnt River in Kinmount on a log using a pipe pole at the Kinmount Lions Club Fun Day held in 1960. Mr. Hancock who now lives in one of the Senior Citizens apartments in Minden told us that on this day many people tried their luck on the log but ended up getting all wet in the river. Unfortunately the Lions Club ceased operation a few years ago.

Bill Smiley

I don't know about you but for me it was some bummer of a summer.

Oh, the weather was great, and I hope you and yours had a super holiday. But nothing else was much good, nationally and personally.

Now, I'm not going to say one word about the postal strike. If I started to write about it, the paper I'm writing on would go up in flames. I'll just take a positive attitude and observe that because of the strike, I didn't have to write a column for six weeks. A nice holiday for me, and probably a welcome relief for those who feel forced to read my meanderings every week.

Nor will I fly into a rage because our members of parliament, just before sneaking off for a long holiday in the middle of about 18 crises, voted themselves a whopping great increase in salary, pensions and all the gravy that accompanies them. It's a tough job and they deserve every 40 or 50 thousands dollars that go with it.

Again, I don't feel incensed that the Prime Minister should go off to Africa for a holiday while the country is being engulfed in unemployment, inflation, separatism, and science-fiction interest rates. He probably enjoyed listening to some gentle Swahili after months of putting up with the bellowing and ranting of the various opposition parties.

I'm sure he came home rested, refreshed, and just as determined as ever to talk about North-South relationships rather than East-West ones.

Perhaps I should be furious about the way in which Canadians completely ignore the energy crisis. I'm not.

Must admit I was a bit perplexed when I was forced to take to the highways one day and saw literally thousands of cars belting along, just over the speed limit, rushing from one hot place to another.

And when I trundle down to the dock, I look at all those big cruisers, nuzzled cheek to cheek, and can't help wondering what their owners are going to do with them about five years from now, when they can't even heat their own homes.

Visiting friends at a cottage on a big lake up north, I saw dozens of teenagers whizzing around in motor boats, going absolutely nowhere, just joy-riding.

However, all this hedonism doesn't bother me deeply. There's a certain feeling that permeates our society, even though it's seldom expressed by those indulging in it.

It's quite a bit like the decline of the Roman Empire.

People are saying, unconsciously, "To hell with it. Can't cope with inflation so might as well go deeper into debt. The buck is worth 40 cents. The vandals are coming. Let's live it up before it's too late."

It was a feeling that a great many people had during World War II. No use worrying about tomorrow because there might not be one. It's a sort of fatalism that is fatal to the human spirit, which demands constant striving, enduring, and suffering in order to make things better. Those latter attributes are going out of style fairly rapidly.

Historians tell us that we study history so that we won't make the mistakes man made in the past. Well, the Roman Empire lasted about a thousand years. Things are quicker these days. Our society looks as though it would

New tourism organization proposed

From the Chamber

by BOB STINSON

The Canadian Government Office of Tourism is spear-heading efforts to form a national organization that will foster professionalism in the presentation of annual festivals across the country. The government has come to recognize the importance such events have on tourism and the potential of expanding on this market.

Many events, such as the Kitchener-Waterloo Oktoberfest, were started with a group of volunteers and little or no budget, and have grown to the point that they employ a full time year round staff to coordinate the organizing of it. The association that is planned will hold workshops and conferences to provide expertise on all aspects of festival organization such as fund-raising, committee structures, volunteers, souvenirs and promotion. Initially only organizers of festivals which last longer than 48 hours are being contacted.

Here in the Highlands there is an abundance of individual activities throughout our high tourist seasons, but as we approach the Fall we find things possibly too quiet. Inquiries are received daily about which we are planning for our "Fall Colour Festivals". The time is ripe for a major event to be planned and run on a broad scale across the county and the government is prepared to help the organization that is established for such a purpose. The public has already indicated it is willing to participate in worth while festivals or events, and in fact are searching for them. It certainly would provide a nice boost just before we head into the long days of Winter wouldn't it?

Report from Parliament

Prime Minister Trudeau is coming under increasing pressure from Liberal Members of Parliament to do something about the economic crisis in Canada.

It is the first time in recent memory that members of the governing party in Parliament have publicly criticized their party's policies, and have openly demanded action to relieve the heavy economic burden being imposed on Canadians.

Liberal members admit that they are being subjected to an angry barrage of criticism from voters in their ridings, and some Members say that if an election were called tomorrow, it would likely be a repeat of 1979 when Joe Clark formed the government.

month minimum, as the release said, but a $400 a year minimum, with additional pay left up to trustees to justify.

The ministry has asked for a response to the suggestion by October 15. It is to be hoped that local trustees condemn it.

Did U.S. officials get the message?

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

The scene was unique for an international event. The people should have been wearing good walking shoes, blue jeans and plaid flannel shirts. Instead they wore suits and dresses, polished patent leather loafers and low heeled shoes.

It was an international event: the first of its kind. Yet, there was no great fanfare. A white charter bus with red and blue stripes drove these 15 delegates from the United States along a twisting narrow forest access road through the crown land of Sherborne township.

After travelling almost two miles over the gravel road, the congressional aides stepped out of the bus and headed through the woods to a little clearing. Here, on the second day of their visit in Canada, they heard of the testing the ministry of the environment performs at its site at Plastic Lake.

They listened intently to speakers, who talked about the problems acid precipitation creates. They were very capable of understanding the scientific terms spoken by the ministry staff.

This group was shown a creek where water at some time during the year could kill a fish within 24 hours. And they were given grafts of the Ph levels plotted by ministry staff.

The day was important to the Canadian scientists. They had to make these Americans understand the immensity of the problem and, they hoped, make them sympathetic to the same cause: eventually decreasing or eliminating emissions of sulphate and nitrate at the sources in the United States and parts of Canada.

The Canadians tempered their pleas with a pleasant easy-going attitude, but after years of intense testing and laboratory investigations they found it difficult to hide their deep concern.

Could they convince the Americans that they should no longer ignore the existence of acid precipitation? The question still remains unanswered.

The scientists had the attention of the Americans but they didn't ruin the occasion by attacking the U.S. industries or by offending the delegates with intense media coverage.

The Canadians wanted the Americans to come to the country, see the problems facing the lakes and forests and take back an understanding that might lead to improved legislation in controlling emissions from industries.

The briefing at the Plastic Lake sight appeared to be successful. The delegates came, they saw and they took away a deeper understanding than the bulletins and reports they had read on the phenomenon of acid rain could have provided.

Lumbermen steal trophy from Kennedy's grasp

Boice, Dwain Lewis, Norman Barry, Kevin Newell, Dwight Sisson, (captain), Kevin Sisson, and Jim Winne.

Championship finals go to last game

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Haliburton lumbermen, the underdogs when the men's softball finals began, pulled themselves together to take the championship last Thursday. After dropping the first game to Kennedy Surplus last week, the lumbermen made an about-face by winning the next two contests for the trophy.

In the second game of the best two out of three series, it looked like the Kennedy team might take the championship but two runs in the bottom of the last inning gave the lumbermen the win.

Kennedy Surplus took off with a run in the first inning by Barry Shaw and followed up with another in the third inning with Dave Nicholls crossing the plate.

In the fourth inning, with the lumbermen still scoreless, Kennedy's men counted another three runs. Brian Mulholland, Jerry Walker and Gary Burtch made the scoreboard with the runs.

The bottom of the fourth inning was the lumbermen's only saving grace as they cracked in four runs. Ted Vasey walked to first and Derrell Stamp hit a single with Duane Lewis following suit. Gary Brohman walked to first to bring Vasey in. Jim Winn then hit a single to bring Stamp home and Lewis and Brohman came home on a double from Kevin Newell.

The lumbermen clamped down on the Kennedy team to keep them only one run ahead until the bottom of the seventh. Dwight Sisson started off with a fielder's choice and Ted Vasey got to first on a hit. Stamp brought the runners home.

Final score was lumbermen 6, Kennedy Surplus 5. The final game of the championship was started Thursday and the game could have left either team the victor. When the runs were finally counted, however, it was the lumbermen who were on the winning end of an 8-4 score.

Haliburton lumbermen began their scoring early with three runs in the first inning and they never lost their grip on the lead.

Winn hit a single in the opening frame and Newell cashed in on an error by the third baseman. Kevin Sisson followed up with a single, and Dwight Sisson also hit a single but was stranded on base when the third out brought Kennedy Surplus to the plate.

The Kennedy squad managed only one run in the first inning as Dave Nicholls crossed the plate.

Kennedy's team lessened the lumbermen's lead in the third inning as Ron Linklater chalked up a point.

The game was tense as the players went through two innings with no score but the lumbermen managed to pick up two more runs in the sixth frame. Kevin and Dwight Sisson were the runners making home.

In the seventh inning the lumbermen plunged ahead with three more runs. Stamp and Duane Lewis began with singles and a walk for Winn left the bases loaded. Kevin Sisson then smashed a stand up triple to bring the runners home.

In the bottom half of the final inning, the Kennedy squad took two runs but they couldn't match the lumbermen's score.

Nicholls and Shaw counted the runs.

Vasey was the winning pitcher while Shaw was tagged with the loss.

The victorious lumbermen were presented with the Dawson Trophy for their efforts.

Haliburton, Minden split in ladies softball championship

by Helen Burk

The Haliburton County Ladies Softball play-off finals got under way last Wednesday night in Haliburton. The first place finishers, Haliburton, played host to the fourth place Dixie Lee Homestead team.

The Haliburton Ladies jumped out in front in the first inning by four runs and never looked back as they defeated Minden 16-2. The Haliburton team was led by Nancy Maughan, Kim Roberts and Marla McNaull.

Nancy Maughan was the winning pitcher while Nelda Cully got the loss.

In the second game played in Minden on Monday night, the Dixie Lee Homestead team played a strong defensive game, winning 8-2. After the third inning Haliburton had a 2-0 lead and had stopped the Minden team from scoring a run in the first and second despite loaded bases. Then in the fourth inning Joan Paul led off with a home run and the Dixie Lee Homestead team went on to score four more runs in that inning to lead 5-2.

In the fifth Minden came up with three more runs, then both teams played excellent defence in the final two innings to make the final score 8-2. Dixie Lee Homestead won.

Hustlers lose title; Lindsay wins it

by Neil Burk

The Rockcliffe Hustlers opened their final series in Lindsay on Tuesday night August 25 on a winning note with a 5-2 win. This was probably the best game of the series as at the end of 10 innings the score was tied 1-1. In the top of the tenth Bernie Nicholls lead off with a home run and after Wade Stamp and Gene Newell singled, Dave Dollo clouted a three run homer to make the score 5-1. Jeff Graham hit a home run for York Tavern to make the final score 5-2.

Minden's winning pitcher was Snell while Ellicott took the loss for York Tavern.

On Wednesday night the bubble broke and the local hustlers were drubbed 7-0 at home. This game was a lot closer than the score indicated as Lindsay York Tavern had only two earned runs with the rest coming on a mess of errors by the locals.

Winning pitcher was Ellicott while Wade Stamp took the loss.

On Friday night again at Minden in a real crowd pleaser each team picked up a run in the third inning. The score remained this way until the sixth when the hustlers picked up what looked to be the winning run as Brian Mulholland singled, was moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Larry Kent and scored on a pinch hit single by Greg Newell.

In the seventh the locals ran into that old hot ball problem and Dan Ellicott scored on three straight errors to tie the game and send it into extra innings.

In the eighth York Tavern picked up three runs on a three run homer by Jeff Graham to win the game 5-2.

Winning pitcher was Ellicott while Snell took the loss.

In the final game on Sunday night, the Hustlers picked up a run in the first inning on a home run by Nicholls and another in the fourth when Snell and Stamp singled. G. Newell sacrificed Snell home and the score was

New coach, weekend schedule, Huskies training camp begins

The Haliburton Junior 'C' Huskies will begin training camp next Tuesday under new head coach Rick Wood.

Wood, who has coached the team in the past, takes over from Larry Hartin, who handled the reins last season. Assisting Wood in running the team will be Bob Wells. Other management and coaching staff have not yet been named.

The Huskies will play a balanced 42 game schedule this season and all games will be held on weekends.

Included in the schedule, which gets underway October 2 and continues through February 28, are 17 Friday away games, seven Saturday home games, one Saturday away game, 12 Sunday home games and three Sunday away games.

A number of rule changes have been implemented in the league this year, and at least two of them should contribute to faster, more exciting play. Penalized players must now serve two minutes in the box even if a goal is scored on their team before the penalty has elapsed. The offside rule has also been changed to allow passing from the defensive zone to the opposition blue line.

2-0 for the locals after four innings.

In the fifth inning the Hustlers ran into that same old problem. They committed a couple of errors and York Tavern took advantage of them and scored four runs to lead 4-2. This is the way the score ended even though the

A number of players from last year's squad are expected to be on hand for training camp next week, and new players will help to round out the squad.

Coaching assistants and others interested in helping out with the team are still needed. Anyone interested should contact recreation committee members Scott Larue or Brian Black.

Hustlers give it their best shot right to the end.

Jeff Graham was the winner with Jack Snell taking the loss.

This ends the regular season for the Rockcliffe Hustlers. In many ways it was a successful season for the locals as they had many new faces and brought on some younger players who are bound to help them in the future.

The management and players would like to thank all their faithful followers and anyone who helped in any way this year.

Also last weekend at our tournament we regret that we forgot to thank Max (Deac) Jackson for his services, we apologize for the error.

The program offers a home energy survey and loans of up to $2,000 to improve energy efficiency and/or convert an oil-heating system to electricity if there is at least 50 per cent reduction in oil consumption.

A,H,M questions Hydro prices

We may be living better electrically but Anson, Hindon and Minden council is concerned that Ontario Hydro's prices are a little too expensive.

Council received a written quote from Hydro stating it would cost $1,985 to remove five mercury vapour street lights from poles on the main street and replace them with five new low sodium lights. The estimate also included re-attaching the mercury vapour lights on Bobcaygeon Road and Orde Street. Price of the new street lights was not included in the quote.

Although this was the first quote council received in writing, members said they had understood the cost would be less.

"I think we should ask what the difference is and why," reeve Lloyd Walker said.

"I think we should try a private contractor with a bucket truck," deputy-reeve Doug Pritchard suggested.

Council decided that hiring a private contractor might be a way to beat the high cost of having Hydro install the lights.

Deputy-reeve Pritchard was delegated to investigate the possibility further.

$52,000 in taxes collected, council sends rest to court

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has collected almost $52,000 in tax arrears in the last three months but council still isn't satisfied. With $51,705.44 collected to date, council decided last Wednesday that registered letters should be sent to people defaulting on their taxes, giving them 21 days to pay before the bill is turned over to small claims court.

Although deputy reeve Doug Pritchard was skeptical that the court would be able to collect the money, council decided it would be worth trying.

"If they don't pay or don't show up, we can give it to the bailiff," councillor Ed Pergolas said.

A Minden man was charged with careless driving last Monday after his car crossed the centre line of Highway 35 and collided with an oncoming vehicle.

Douglas R. Miller, 62, was southbound when he veered into the northbound lane and collided with the side of a car driven by Ernest S. Eastman, 75, of RR2 Minden. Eastman had just pulled out of the Kawartha Dairy parking lot when the accident occurred.

Damage to Eastman's car was estimated at $1500, while damage to Miller's car was estimated at $3000.

Miller suffered minor injuries.

vation equipment. Its staff of two conservators will conduct basic onsite conservation examinations, monitor the museum's environment for light, temperature and humidity levels, and will consult with museum staff on the care, storage and display of artifacts.

Toddler's play is enriched by parent's active participation

Catherine Miller
Infant Development
Consultant

The toddler years are filled with active exploration and a steady stream of questions. You, as a parent, can enrich your toddler's play by providing a safe, physical environment offering a wide range of objects to explore and a supportive social environment that offers encouragement, attention and plenty of exciting opportunities.

Toddlers love to touch, so the first step in designing play spaces for them involves toddler-proofing your home. Remove those things that are unsafe or too valuable for her hands. Substitute things she can touch. Organize cupboards and shelves so that the "touchables" (eg. plastic bowls, pots and pans, canned goods, empty boxes, toys) are at the lower levels your toddler can reach. This way she can choose the task she will undertake and learn to put away her playthings on her own.

Become a partner in your toddler's play when she wants your participation. Talk to your toddler about what she is doing - the sights, sounds, feelings, tastes, smells. In this way, you can help her concentrate a little longer at a difficult task. Remember though, your role in play is encouragement not force. Much of the play and learning value of experimenting and discovering will be lost if you constantly show her the "right" way to do something.

The following are some play ideas that utilize items commonly found around the house. The next time you catch your toddler getting into something, you'd rather she didn't - give one of these ideas a try!

Paper Bag Blocks

1. Lay a closed grocery bag flat on a table, fold the top over about eight inches and crease well.
2. Open the bag and fill it with crumpled newspaper. You'll need about 14 sheets of paper per bag.
3. Fold the top over on the crease and seal with masking tape.

Make a number of blocks, so your toddler can build with them.

Obstacle course

Make some tunnels and mazes from open cardboard boxes and sheets or blankets draped over upturned chairs. Your toddler will love to crawl under, over, around and through the obstacle course. Make it more interesting by providing things to "find" or "do" along the way.

Shopping book

Many toddlers recognize packages of their favourite foods in the supermarket. Using cardboard and pictures cut from magazines or the fronts of empty packages, make a shopping book - Not only will your child enjoy looking at and talking about the pictures of familiar objects, but you can send him on a shopping spree! Ask him to find the item to match each picture, from the kitchen cupboard.

Puzzles

You and your toddler can make puzzles by choosing large, simple pictures from magazines, gluing them to heavy cardboard, and cutting the cardboard into pieces. Begin with a simple two piece or three piece puzzle that pictures something familiar, such as a dog or toy. Later, cut the puzzle into many smaller pieces to make it more of a challenge.

This weekly column on child development is provided by the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit's Infant Stimulation Programme. Your comments and questions regarding issues in child development are invited.

Unique quilt raffled off soon

by Leopoldina Dobrzensky

The sampler quilt produced by the Guild's quilting group will be raffled off at the Rail's End Station Gallery at 2 p.m. on Saturday, September 5. There is still time to buy a ticket and to win this beautiful, handcrafted item, but don't wait too long!

The group was formed in 1980, after a workshop given in conjunction with the quilt show by Mrs. Inez Williams of Sarnia, a noted authority in the field. Following her advice, the ladies started a sampler quilt with the picture of the Rail's End Station Gallery as their first project. Just then, the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts was getting ready to take part in the annual sportsmen's show in Toronto. Could the quilt be finished in time for the show? The ladies set to work, but nine people can only accomplish so much - enter county quilters from Lochlin, West Guilford, Eagle Lake, Haliburton and Minden - with their help, the quilt was finished in less than a week, just in time for the show!

The quilting group produces one quilt a year. The next

This week's activities started with our regular Fun and Fitness program and crafts on Monday. In the evening several residents watched two very interesting movies: Salt, the essence of Life showed us how Rocksalt used to be mined by pick and shovel and how it is mined today by explosives and heavy gasoline operated machinery. 20,000 tons a day is now mined and 26,000 acres of land is used for processing salt. Millions of tons of salt is consumed in many different ways each year all over the world.

Foothold on Antarctica took us on an expedition from London to the Weddell Sea at the South Pole. The party crossed Antarctica from the Weddell Sea to the Ross Sea which is a distance of 2,000 miles. The trip was treacherous but was completed in two years. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed these two films.

Tuesday morning Rev. John James of Haliburton United Church held service in the Chapel. Maron Rose played the organ during the service.

In the afternoon a game of Bingo was held in the auditorium. Everyone enjoyed the afternoon playing the game of chance.

Wednesday evening Bob Penfold and his volunteer helpers were here for Games Night. The residents enjoyed games of Euchre, Cribbage and Crokinole.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of Minden A.C.W. served a special Birthday Tea Party. The guests of honour were Ethel Robinson, Dorothy Martin, Isabella Avery, Eliza Chalmers, Viola Deumo, Alberta Webber and Ernest Berry. The special people all celebrated birthdays in the month of August and the group presented them with a lovely personalized birthday cake. Our thanks to these folks for making this birthday celebration a very happy one.

Friday afternoon several people gathered in the main lounge for the Sing Song.

Grace Coburn led the singing and Norma Barron accompanied us on the piano.

We would like to welcome Elsie Plumb and Chris Precoor to Hyland Crest. We sincerely hope they will enjoy their new home with us.

LET US NEVER FORGET.

"Somewhere the hurting must stop..."

Letter from Terry Fox
October 15, 1979

For Terry the hurting is past. It was a challenge, it was a triumph. A vision of rare spirit and courage. But the Marathon of Hope was more than just the dreaming and doing of one exceptional man. It was the first long step to finding a cure for cancer.

September 13 is the first annual Terry Fox Run for the Marathon of Hope. Only you can make it a success. Thousands of cancer victims lie in Canadian hospitals. They need your help, your strength, your stamina, your ability to organize.

The Terry Fox Run is not a race. It is a continuation of the fight against cancer through the Marathon of Hope begun by Terry Fox. Run, walk, jog. Take as much or as little time as you need. It's your opportunity to help.

"I was determined to take myself to the limit for this cause." Terry Fox fought long and fought hard, for many. He will never be forgotten. He gave too much. We, in turn, must not forget that he ran not for Terry Fox but for the Marathon of Hope. Let us do the same. Without help, the dream will die. Help make that dream a reality for the many who cannot help themselves. Organize, run, sponsor For Terry, the pain is over. For us, the battle is just begun.

Happy Gang News

By Watson Anderson, physician (ret.)

The Napanee area which we had the pleasure of visiting recently is quite a prosperous community where the chief activity is farming, one of many such places in the province. On our return we were met by the gorgeous flowers of extencicare, prettier even than when we left. One lone muskmelon ripened on the vine and even detached itself from its vine. Divided into the proper number of portions no more than one table could enjoy it. Tuesday morning the ladies were presented with quite a mess of beets which they quickly processed into beet pickles, bringing another garden item to our enjoyment. The tops were not used as greens but will be collected and composted as we frequently described, and the fresher the better because most of the plant nutrients they contain are water soluble and if allowed to dry are destroyed.

In the afternoon was a game of bingo but no volunteer helpers. Ivy must hop, skip, and jump in her role as activities director. It was a good game in which nobody lost, but much loot was won.

The last big difenbachia had to be dismantled. A companion plant, a lengthy trailing philodendron that we discovered to be two separate plants were suitably potted and will be offered if anyone wishes to buy them. The difenbachia stem was portioned into some 15 cuttings to produce more of the same species of difenbachia. When rooted each one should be an interesting plant to watch develop and grow.

We are now making preparations to bring many of the house plants inside when frost threatens. It is simply a matter of carefully potting them where they are so they are suitably portable, instead of potting them at the last minute. There are impatiens, geraniums, flowering maples and fuchsias and perhaps others to pot.

Wednesday the Happy Gang held a dog show on the South lawn, a memorable occasion; Barbara Ramsay brought her German Shepherd called Angie who won first prize for the best behaved, the largest dog and the longest tail. Lois Yakelash with her Collie dog mix who is called Micky tied for second prize along with Jim's Irish Setter called Candy. Brenda Ellis brought her cocker spaniel called Chip, which won first prize for the shortest tail. Lisa Larcher brought her poodle named B.J. to win second prize because he had the second shortest tail; Caroline Shaw brought her poodle named Casey because he had the third shortest tail and he took first prize for the loudest bark; Jean Cummings brought her Husky named Kana who won first prize because she was the worst behaved; Ellen Fyfe brought her pup named Tuffy who won first prize because she was the shyest and smallest; Jane Rosenberg brought her Labrador retriever named Dutchess who got second prize for being the largest dog; Shirley Rydman brought her collie called Sparky who got first prize for having the longest hair; Ivy Shaw brought her Huskie named Kuma who got no prize; Barbara Ramsey brought another dog called Jack, a Labrador retriever who got no prize. We trust the recipients of the prizes will tell you what they got. A couple of the big ones had to sit for a minute but this being a show rather than a fight they were parted to the dogs' disgust. It was quite a party, and our attendance was nearly unanimous. Something drastic has happened to our society. Any member of any of the trades get paid twice as much for making a night house call than a physician. It makes one shiver to think of any of the remedies for this.

Thursday a boat load of us were put aboard the Highland Queen for a summer cruise from the Head Lake dock through the narrows into Kashagawigamog Lake to a turning around point in its middle. Those choosing to come were: Harold Austin, Flossie Burk, Alma Clement, Jack and Peggy Henderson, Shirley Frost, Clifford Johnson, Ezra Lott, Ella Maughan, Christina McCrae, Hazel Parish, Jack Pollard, Edward Thorlackson, Norman Titus, Edgar Long and Watson Anderson. We had clear good weather for sight seeing. John Teljuer was skipper and Barbara was the gracious hostess. We were kept coralled by Ivy Shaw, shepherdess, with the voluntary assistance of Heidi and Signe Tashlin. Binoculars are nice to have to see the tidiness of the fronts of the various resorts and cottages. The driver of the bus that took us to and from the boat did not give her name to this reporter.

The very evangelistic pastor, the Rev. Rick Brewster of Allsaw Pentecostal Church led us in the Friday morning devotional period with Marjorie Rennick (May Emerson's daughter) as the pianist. The theme pertained to the story of the rich man who asked Jesus "What must I do to have eternal life? I have obeyed all of the commandments". His answer in brief was, "Sell all you have and give the money to the poor". That was a stickler and prompted Jesus to remark that "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to inherit

The resolution from Anson, Hindon and Minden requesting a donation for the installation of plexi-glass around the ice surface of the Minden arena, tabled.

The Township accepted Messers. Jordan, Steiger and Bunker proposal regarding property on Concession 10, part lot 27, Galway.

The Clerk treasurer was requested to determine the procedure / agreement requirements with adjacent municipalities to enable the Township to receive the $1.95 per capita library support grant from the Provincial Government.

Due to the continuing problems encountered by rate-payers in the Cavendish area, the clerk treasurer was requested to invite a member of the Ontario Provincial Police detachment in Peterborough to the next council meeting to review their policing policy in the Cavendish area.

last about a hundred. However, "Wotthehell, Archy, Wotthehell", as Mehitabel the cat used to say the Archie the cockroach in the Don Marquis poems. I'm no old Roman senator brooding over the decline of morality, law, order, justice, ready to quietly enter his bath and slit his wrists when he could stand it no longer.

But I did come close to slitting my wrists a couple of times this summer.

Went to a Saturday wedding on a beautiful July day. It was outdoors. Me and the old lady dressed to kill. Bride's parents old friends. Bride a former student. Many of her guests other former students. Delighted to see and talk with them. Excellent reception afterwards. Dined like Roman senator and his consort. Music. Bride and friends afterwards disoed, the girls like Botticelli creations. Superb.

Awoke Sunday morning to scream of horror. Wife had gone to basement to do one of her twice-daily laundries. Thought there must be a rattlesnake. Tottered down. Sewer had backed up. Cellar full of water and stuff.

Sublime to ridiculous. Spent all day Sunday swabbing up, in dirty shorts, sweaty T-shirt. Mopped up 14 pails of grunge and threw them in jungle out back. (Should be some great growth there next spring).

Couldn't flush toilets. Plumbers didn't work Mondays. Had to use potty. No relief until Tuesday noon. Twas then I took a long look at wrists, but knew my razor blade was too dull.

Had a bad foot, arthritis. Could play only nine holes of golf, in some pain, but game. Fourth time out, made such a bad golf swing, tore muscles in left elbow. End of golf for summer. This time looked at hatchet. Who needs a bum foot and an elbow that feels like a branding iron when I swing? They make artificial ones these days, don't they?

Went to specialist for foot. He took 10 minutes, charged me $47, and didn't even take the foot off. Gave me a prescription for an arch support! Hadn't bothered telling me he had his own price scale. And so it went.

Rain problem. They have obtained wide scale support from environmental groups and probably their most important work at this time involves the employing of a full-time lobbyist in Washington. It was through the pressures applied by this person that the visitation was agreed to. She continues to work to increase the awareness in the U.S. of the problem and this is a major task. Only between 10 and 15 per cent of our American neighbours have ever heard of Acid Rain compared to over 80 per cent of Canadians.

Possibly our best approach to fighting this international problem from a local base is to support this organization whose sole reason for existence is just that. We hope that in the near future the Chamber can arrange to have their representative visit us here and speak to the membership.

DISTRICT NEWS

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

Looking back over the busy summer weeks we see one happy group who were sorry to bring their activities to a close. This was the Day Camp held daily at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre with a registration of about 20 children between the ages of 4 and 12. Three students in charge during this time were Jane Taylor, Karen Croft and Cathy Stamp and they found the children very enthusiastic and cooperative. These leaders organized an interesting program that provided songs, crafts, games and hikes. Through the kindness of Mrs. Bessie Croft, librarian, films were shown once a week at the library and at one time a puppet show that proved to be great entertainment. Another joyful experience came when all dressed as clowns and joined in the Country Good Times parade. The last day was a special occasion when a wiener roast was held and a chance to look back on a happy summer experience. The leaders were well pleased with the results of their efforts and felt that they had gained a wider knowledge of child behaviour and attitudes.

A dull day was brightened considerably when a wedding took place at the Wilberforce United Church on Saturday, August 29. Crowds of people gathered to fill the church to capacity with many waiting outside during the ceremony. The bride, Kelly Lyn Levey, arrived fashionably late, looking very beautiful in her white gown and veil. She was greeted by her three bridesmaids dressed in charming yellow chiffon. The lucky groom was Barry Gordon Stoughton. The couple were united in wedlock by the Rev.

David Stevens. A reception and dance were held in the Memorial Centre.

Members of the Museum committee met in the council chambers to discuss a change of opening hours that will take place beginning Saturday, September 12 at which time the summer staff of students will be replaced by volunteers who will staff the museum from 1 to 5 and from 6 to 8. On Sundays the hours will be 2 to 5 and 6 to 8.

Close to 2000 people have signed the visitor's book and many messages of congratulation have been received concerning the delightful display.

This has been a summer of fine entertainment for children. One last treat before school commences is a puppet show provided by the Lake Ontario Regional Library System. This show takes place on September 4 at 10:00 a.m. and consists of two plays, "The Rabbit who wanted red wings" and "Big Magwis and Little Magwis," and the program will last about half an hour, at the Library this Friday. See you there.

The Monmouth Senior Citizen Club beginning this week are once again holding their weekly meetings at the Memorial Centre. The meetings will take place in the evenings until the end of October at which time they will be held in the afternoons for the winter months. On September 15 a special evening of dancing and entertainment will be provided by the Senior Citizen Club with music supplied by the Old Time Fiddler's Band from Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls. On this occasion the museum will be open for the evening.

We are happy to have good news that George Grant is doing very well after his spell in the hospital and we are hoping to see him about town in a short time. Karl Tallman also very much improved in health and looking forward to a trip out west with Marion.

Our Summer Visitors and Seasonal Residents are Important to us

The Spring and Summer of 1981 has been good to Haliburton County in terms of the number of visitors and over the past few years in particular there has been a definite effort to sell the Highlands as a number one vacation area in this Province. This past summer a number of new attractions have been added to compliment this growing area. I sincerely hope everyone enjoyed the time spent here and I trust they will return again soon. We enjoyed having you.

Yours truly

Murray Fearrey
Reeve Dysart et al,
Warden Haliburton County

We hope the memories of your stay in the Highlands are a pleasant mixture of fun, relaxation and peace. It is our wish to see you back again. If you have any suggestions about how we can make the Highlands an even more attractive place to visit, we would appreciate hearing from you. In return, we'll send you several copies of the Haliburton County Echo throughout the winter to keep you informed about local happenings.

*And if your looking for something to do this fall, why not treat yourself to a return visit.
You'll find Haliburton's fall colours are second to none.*

tuesday all summer the success they were and now to top an already good thing, the ladies are holding "Dollar a Bag" days. On Saturday, September 5, Tuesday, September 8 and Saturday, September 12 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. you may call in and visit with the ladies and for every dollar you give, you can fill a bag with very good clothing. In this day of inflation I hope to see every one of you at the Ladies' Institute Hall in Norland and be the best dressed people around. Thank you once again for your very generous contributions but now as summer once again draws to a close, the hall will be used for various events and so, any left over items will have to be removed from the premises. Therefore the ladies ask that you please remember them again next year but as space prohibits, must refrain from accepting any further donations this year. The final closing date this year is September 12. See you next year!

Ken Gardiner, Bernice and Arthur Owens, all of Kinmount visited their Aunt Myrtle McGann at her home in Peterborough on Monday, August 24.

Quite a number of local folks are now or will be travelling soon so as soon as they arrive back home I will possibly have some stories to tell.

Betty and John Lonsdale, after cutting off their heads of cabbage in their garden, chop the knife down into the remaining stock and just leave it that way and when it was pointed out to me, there were 5 nice little, solid heads growing once again, in a ring around the original cabbage stump. Maybe you knew that but it was certainly something else I learned last Friday.

Results of the 11 tables of euchre played at St. James Hall in Kinmount of Tuesday, August 25 were: ladies' high - Gladys Anderson; ladies' low - Laurie Williamson; mens' high - R. Holbrook; mens' low - K. Atkins; and most lone hands: Vi Cooke.

Laverne and Ruby Greer of Cobocook were visitors at the home of Gerry and Verna Crego over last weekend.

It was nice to see an old friend, Eunice Breckles, once again last Friday evening.
Little Molly Suckling of RRI "Coby" and Twan, a wee newcomer were visiting with the Fountain girls at their home, RRI Kinmount, one day last week.

I enjoyed a short, first time visit with Vivian Anderson last Friday.

A lady called this week asking for a Carrot Marmalade: 2 lbs. carrots, 2 oranges, 4 lemons, 7 cups sugar, 1/2 bottle Certo, fruit pectin, (optional), 2 tsp. ground ginger or cinnamon. Wash, scrape or peel carrots; cook about 15 minutes or until tender. Wash oranges, grate rind and dice pulp of oranges, discarding any seeds. Squeeze juice from lemons. Drain carrots, chop very fine and mix with orange pulp, rind and lemon juice. Measure 4 cups of the mixture into a large cook pot. Mix sugar with fruit. If adding the spice, mix it with the sugar before blending with fruit. Sterilize 10 8-ounce jelly glasses, wide-mouth funnel and dipper. Melt 2 bars of paraffin. Bring carrot mixture to a boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; at once stir in Certo fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Stir and skim 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. While skimming, remove glasses from hot water, invert to drain and ladle marmalade into the hot glasses. Cover with hot paraffin. Cool, label and store.

I hope you like that one and it could be a start towards your Xmas table. I have a dandy recipe for mincemeat which takes time and love but when done will keep all winter in a crock or makes a nice gift when put into jars and tied with a ribbon. It's quite a lengthy recipe so I'll write it out only if I hear from any of you requesting same. I can be reached sooner or later at 488-2399.

Welcome back to Donna Shaw and family.

See you next week and in the meantime stay healthy and do as you would be done by.

Oh, how time flies. It seems like yesterday one was mentioning a nice hot summer. Now we only have 20 days or so left until the start of fall. Oh well, we can always get into a happy frame of mind - and keep on thinking happy thoughts all day - it is a habit. You can train yourself if you've the will. This bad old world of ours is in a mess - so do your bit to put it right - though hard the road, whatever comes or goes think good thoughts, think happy thoughts, keep turning to the light. It is there, just look to it.

Birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for the month of September are: Isabella Eastman, ninth; Frank Billings, 12th; and Mary Oliver, 26th. Others with birthdays in September are: Myra Mason, 9th; Ruth Harrison, 14th.

A birthday card may not seem like much but a lot of folks would rather receive a message straight from the heart than an expensive gift.

I had a phone call from my number two son and wife Sunday. I haven't heard from my sons since before the postal strike but now it is over the calls are coming. They are fine in Victoria except for strikes out in B.C. My son said Alaska was great the end of July and he won't be at sea until he goes to Hawaii in October. He was saying phone calls will soon be cheaper than letters. I don't agree with that for even if postage is 30 cents a letter I can put more in one ounce of letter than I can say for 30 cents on the phone. I go blank when I hear their voices and get choked up.

Andrew Deslauriers of Peterborough has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Woods and family.

When checking through the centres who can give you information regarding the Terry Fox Run in September I saw the name Haliburton. For more information contact Blair Pierce, 457-1212.

Mrs. Maude Coulter is visiting with Mrs. Wm. Milligan at Newtonville.

Faced with a choice of mowing the grass, or sitting in a lawn chair, I find that a mowing decision can seldom compete with letting the grass grow under my feet!

Calling all readers of Minden Library. This is the last week to get books before the moving to the new library. The library will be closed the week of September 7 to 11, re-opening in the new library on September 12 at regular time. Now I know it is further out of the town proper but if you leave your names at the old library this week, there are many of the library readers who would be willing to take readers without cars up to the new library when necessary. Keep reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright have returned home from a month's holiday in the west. While in Alberta they had a lovely visit with Jim and Audrey Smith at Red Deer.

It seems such a shame that this County of ours has lost so much of its heritage before we smartened up. I say "we" because I have lived here for 46 years and it is home. We lost the name "Pike's Peak" for our High point overlooking the town but now I hear they are planning to change the old name of Bobcaygeon Road North to something else! What seems to be the only heritage left except in books. Why change it and who do they want to name it after? Wake up folk and hold on to the last or nearly last heritage you have.

Summer is the time for visitors and some who have returned or maybe here for the first time are a small flock of wild ducks that sun themselves on my dock daily. They are quite tame and stayed put when I went out to take their picture. So much of our wildlife has been crowded out or scared away by civilization, the loons, for instance are very scarce, so it is delightful to have some wild fowl on your door step, or more correctly, on your dock.

3. A fairly brief survey of British Columbia's technology and industry. They have their highlights and their problems like the other provinces.

Is Premier Peter Lougheed of Alberta a nice guy and a good premier for Alberta? In this energy price difference between Ontario and Edmonton, Edmonton wants around 85 per cent of world prices for her oil but Ottawa wants it for 50 per cent of world prices. But Ottawa will give foreigners 100 per cent of world prices. Now do you not think Lougheed is as good a premier for Alberta as Bill Davis is for Ontario. As a good premier for Ontario that is why Bill has become a good pal of Trudeau, he needs cheap oil for his electors and Ontario Hydro so it can give Ontario electors cheap power. For that reason he is a good premier for Ontario, Trudeau on the other hand prefers to give foreigners 100 per cent world price for oil but will give only 50 per cent of world prices to the Province of Alberta. That is why we think Trudeau is a good foreigner and a bad Canadian and yet the electors made him Prime Minister. Peter Lougheed would be a better Prime Minister because he is at least loyal to his electors.

THE MANAGEMENT OF ENERGY IN CANADA. ONE OF A SERIES.

FOUR SECRETS OF A SUPER NEW FAMILY HOME THAT CUTS HEATING BILLS UP TO 90%

YOU CAN HEAT SUPER ENERGY-EFFICIENT HOMES FOR $50 TO $200 A YEAR - TODAY!

It costs $500 to $1,000 to heat a typical Canadian house. But there are super energy-efficient homes coming on the market that heat for $50 to $200 a year.

They look like other new houses. They have various layouts - bungalows, ranch-style, splits, townhouses. Nothing far out - and no far out prices, either.

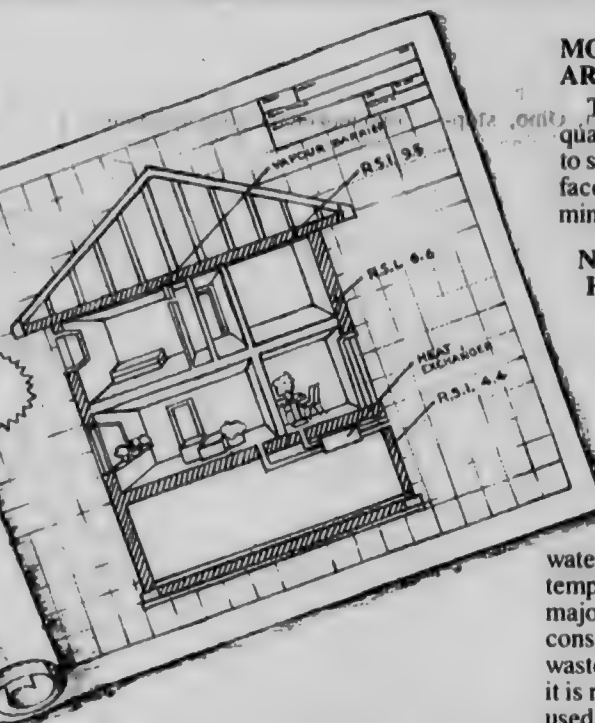

They don't even use special materials, or exotic technology. What they do have are innovations in design and construction that have proven themselves through frigid Prairie winters.

NEW SUPER ENERGY-EFFICIENT HOMES - TO SHOW YOU HOW

It's time other Canadians shared these secrets. That's why the Government of Canada is supporting the construction of new super energy-efficient homes as part of the National Energy Program. Builders will construct some in every province. Even those Canadians who aren't in the market for a new home can use some of these innovations in their present homes. But the super homes are for sale, too. They're meant for living, not just show.

THE OPEN SECRETS OF A SUPER ENERGY-EFFICIENT HOME

The four major items that make a home super energy-efficient may add up to $6,000 or 5 to 10% to the construction cost of a new home. But that's an investment which pays for itself in lower fuel bills, keeps on paying dividends for years to come and adds to the resale value of the home.

THICK WALLS - UP TO A FOOT (30 cm) THICK - AND FULL OF INSULATION

Insulation. And more insulation. That's one of the big secrets. The super energy-efficient house has two to three times more insulation than the average new home.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

	Super Energy-Efficient Home	Most Other New Homes
RSI	(R)	(R)
Ceilings	8.8-10.5 (50-60)	3.5-5.3 (20-30)
Walls	5.3-7.0 (30-40)	2.1-3.5 (12-20)
Basement Walls	3.5-5.3 (20-30)	0.18-2.1 (1-12)

(A higher RSI factor means lower heat loss.)

The walls of a super energy-efficient home are sometimes 30 cm thick to take the abundant insulation. The attic is piled high with the stuff, and there's even insulation in the doors, making them RSI/1.7 or better, instead of the normal RSI/.35. You can't see super-insulation, but it's there, silently saving you money.

IT'S AIRTIGHT BUT HEALTHY - WITH FRESH AIR

The entire house is wrapped (on the inside) with an airtight vapour barrier to reduce excessive rates of air change, to keep out drafts, and to keep household moisture from entering the walls. The vapour barrier is carefully overlapped and caulked at all joints - even behind electrical boxes. Every joint and crack is completely sealed. Doors and windows are weather-stripped and super-tight. Air-lock vestibules reduce drafts when doors are open.

In fact, the house is so airtight that mechanical ventilation may have to be provided. But even here, a unique air-to-air heat exchanger developed just for this purpose, or a small heat pump, saves energy by transferring heat from the outgoing air to the incoming fresh air. Ventilation is efficient and controlled - not wasteful and haphazard.

MOST WINDOWS FACE SOUTH AND ARE ENERGY-CONSERVING

The house is oriented to the sun with quality double-glazed windows facing south to soak up free solar energy. Fewer windows face north and these may be triple-glazed to minimize heat loss.

NOW, WHO NEEDS A BIG HEATING SYSTEM?

To complete the energy-conserving features of these houses, they are equipped with automatic set-back thermostats and the most efficient of appliances and heating equipment. The heating system is miniature both in size and consumption, matching the space heating demands of the house. The water heater and hot water pipes are well insulated, and water temperatures are readily controlled. The major appliances all have low EnergyGuide consumption ratings, and in some cases waste heat is captured and recirculated where it is needed. Efficient fluorescent lights are used wherever possible rather than incandescent bulbs.

BUY A SUPER ENERGY-EFFICIENT HOME - OR JUST LEARN FROM ONE

If you're in the market for a new home, here's what to do:

Some super energy-efficient homes may be built in your community within the next year or so. Buy one, if you can.

They'll be bargains. When looking at any new house ask for the features that make a home super energy-efficient.

Even if you're not in the market for a new house you can still save energy and money in your present home. Here's where the EnerSave Advisory Service - a free Government of Canada energy consulting service for all Canadians - can help. Mail the coupon below. We'll send you our EnerSave "Energy Analysis" questionnaire. It will help you plan and complete your home energy program.

Trent Severn Waterway News

Dry weather made its presence felt again in the week ending August 24. Reservoir storage declined by 3 per cent to 68.5 per cent on that date compared to the 1 per cent drop in the week ending August 17. With only a few showers expected the storage will probably decline to about 65 per cent by August 31.

Kawartha levels are holding at or very close to their normal navigation maximum level with virtually no surplus. Quite often these levels are allowed to decline into the navigation range as the summer draws to a close to lighten the draw of reservoir water, especially under dry conditions. This may well be the case this year.

As a whole the summer has been a little wetter than average so far and this was reflected in an Otonabee River flow higher than the bare minimum released in summers like 1975 and 1977. 1980 was considerably wetter than 1981, so the Otonabee flow averaged 51.9 cu. meters then, compared to the 35.7 cu. meters this year or the 20.1 cu. meters in 1975.

Lake Simcoe - Couchiching out flow was increased this week so the surplus should gradually disappear there over the next two or three months depending upon the amount of precipitation received.

Reservoir Lake storage declined by only one percent to 71.4 per cent by August 17 in response to reduced draw off for canal use and the weekend rain of more than 25 millimeters. Throughout this week as well, reduced amounts of reservoir flow have been required while the surplus is evaporating from the Kawartha. At 71.4 per cent the 1981 depletion curve for this date is 4 per cent higher than the ten year average curve.

The Gull River flow is 14.4 cubic meters per second at present which is about 25 per cent less than the long term average flow for August of 19.1 cubic meters per second.

The Otonabee River flow is quite near its long term August average of 31.6 cubic meters per second. During hot dry periods it has been less than the flow of Gull River far upstream due to evaporation losses in between. On July 21 this summer for instance the Gull River flow was 22.6 cubic meters per second while the Otonabee flow was 22.1. Evaporation from the lakes for the month of July in this part of Canada is calculated over a ten year period to average 150 millimeters (6 inches). Some of this is replaced of course by rain and some is drawn out for other purposes if one is considering any one particular lake.

Lake Simcoe Couchiching continues about 8 or 9 centimeters above the rule curve level due to abundant rainfall. The out flow which has been averaging less than the long term average will probably be increased to near average this coming week.

Snowdon Township views statement of credit

At the August meeting of Snowdon Township council, the following matters were considered:

As required under Section 222 of The Municipal Act, the Treasurer presented to Council a statement of the money at the credit of the Corporation as at June 30, 1981.

M. Cressman of Canam Oil advised Council that overage on the road oil between the quantity ordered and the amount delivered was due to a lack of communication between their Head Office in Breslau and the dispatcher in Toronto and that steps would be taken to ensure that there was no possibility of this occurring in future years.

The rate for the ploughing of private driveways during the winter of 1981/82 will be $10 for every 15 minute period or portion thereof in respect of normal length driveways and the 1980/81 rates for other driveways will be increased on a pro rata basis. The resolution was carried on a recorded vote: Voting Yea: B. Neville, F. Simmons, D. Wruth; Voting Nay: J. Francis, R. Vick.

Road Voucher #7 of $4,484.17 for July was approved for payment.

General Accounts of $3,456.08 and General Welfare Assistance of $389.00 for July were approved.

Land Severance Application # H168/81 was approved.

The proposal as contained in a letter from Bishop and Wilson Limited dated August 5, 1981, relative to the closing and conveyance of a portion of the road allowance between lots 19 and 20, concession 2 in exchange for the municipality receiving the northerly 66 ft. of part 3 on the plan submitted was accepted, subject to the applicant being responsible for all costs incurred.

And we have had company as most people have. Lloyd and May McKay of Hespeler and their three teenage youngsters, Kelly, Laurie and Jim, along with a friend of Laurie's, Kathy Starr, visited us and the other members of the McKey family and we all had a jolly time. Also, I had a pleasant surprise when I met some old time friends at my door. Steve Both and his wife Barb, of Akron, Ohio, stopped in for a visit, being on a trip to North Bay, Sault Ste. Marie, then down through Michigan and home. Its always nice to see old friends that you haven't been in touch with for a while.

The Dorset Community Club had a very successful Flea Market and Bake Sale and would like to thank all those who attended and also those who contributed articles for sale and baking. Some of our summer residents contributed some beautifully decorated cakes that looked too good to eat but were a great addition to the sale. So a special thanks to those who take time off from their holiday to assist a local cause.

H.H. Some suggestions for getting rid of ants; ordinary salt spread around window sills, cupboards, etc., or use cayenne pepper, or slices of unpeeled cucumbers spread around is also supposed to work. I haven't tried these suggestions but they come from a good source.

It is time for alfalfa and trefoil hay fields to take their annual fall vacation.

Each year legume hay fields require a six-week rest during what is called a critical period. This critical period is the six weeks from about August 20 until the end of September. Fields of alfalfa, trefoil and clover which are cut for hay during this critical period can be very susceptible to being killed out over winter.

The legume plants need about six weeks after they are cut, to re-grow. During this re-growth period, the plant is taking food from the roots for growth. This depletes the root reserves which are required to keep roots from freezing up over winter, and are also required to get the plants growing well next spring.

Legume fields which are cut during the critical period don't have enough time to develop new growth and replenish their root reserves before the killing frosts which often occur in early October.

If you had a field, last weekend was the deadline for getting it cut. Cutting it later than then increases your chances of killing out a lot of the plants in the field over winter. With the cost of planting alfalfa and trefoil today, no farmers can afford that risk.

Now is also an excellent time to do your fall fertilizing on your hay fields. Potash is the vital plant food required by legumes to build up their resistance to freezing.

It's somewhat similar to putting anti-freeze in the rad of your car or tractor before winter. The potash acts as anti-freeze in the legume roots over winter.

If your hay fields are low in potash, you should consider adding more of this plant nutrient now to help carry your crop over winter.

A,H,M have August council meeting

At the most recent meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council, August 24, the following matters were considered:

Ron Bolender was present to request Council's consideration to approve the additional $640 charge on his invoice for the extra work and handling of materials as a result of the conditions imposed by the Ministry of Natural Resources relative to dredging the municipal park lot and boat launch in Lot 1, Plan 577. Council deferred a decision until the next meeting pending discussion of this matter with Dick Schell, M.L.E.O.

John Burns attended Council to request an extension date to June 1982 for completion of the roads in his plan of subdivision in Lot 12, Concession A, Anson Township. The Clerk was directed to obtain a legal opinion for the next meeting on the various issues discussed.

Council concurred with the resolution of the Corporation of the Town of Leamington requesting the Government of Ontario to institute a low interest mortgage program for home buyers in Ontario similar to that of the Province of Nova Scotia.

L. Ball and a Mr. Murphy were present to express their concern regarding access to their acreage property in Lot 21, Concession 7, Township of Minden and the use of the original road allowance between Lot 20/21, Concession 7. Council advised that Dick Schell, M.L.E.O. would be requested to do an on site inspection in an attempt to determine if township road allowance is involved.

Yvonne Penney was appointed to the Minden Recreation Committee until December 31, 1981 to fill the vacancy left when Ken Bannon resigned from the Committee.

The Clerk was authorized to endorse the Proof of Loss form with respect to damages which occurred at Rotary Park on June 21, 1981.

Council accepted the proposal call of the firm of Proctor & Redfern Limited to prepare a comprehensive zoning by-law for this municipality for the sum of $12,500 and the Reeve and Clerk be hereby authorized to endorse the agreement with Proctor & Redfern.

Council accepted the proposal call of Proctor & Redfern Limited to prepare a comprehensive zoning by-law and council will make application to the Ontario Ministry of Housing for a Community Planning Study Grant in the amount of $12,800 the fee quoted to prepare the by-law.

By-law 81-40 a by-law to authorize the Reeve and Clerk to execute an agreement with Couchiching Real Estate Limited relative to a plan of subdivision was passed.

By-law 81-41 a by-law to authorize the conveyance of property known as Part 1 of Plan 19R-2386 was also passed.

Report from Parliament

In addition to double-digit inflation, and interest rates in excess of 20 per cent, most Canadians blame the government for allowing the Canadian Union of Postal Workers to stage a 45-day strike, putting further pressure on the economy and ruining thousands of small businesses.

It is obvious to most people by now that the government's policy of allowing interest rates to soar has not curbed inflation, as they said it would, but the federal finance minister has said that he will not back down from his stand on high interest rates.

Last Thursday the Bank of Canada raised its interest rate again, to an all-time high of 21.07 per cent. This increase followed one of the worst weeks ever experienced by the Toronto Stock Market, when more than $10 billion was wiped off the stated values of companies listed on the exchange.

Stock market analysts say that people are selling stocks and investing in high-interest-bearing bank notes, and that this practise is stifling growth of our manufacturing industries at a time when they should be expanding and creating new jobs.

While the high interest rates are pleasing to investors, they are putting housing further than ever out of reach of the average Canadian. Many people who are forced to renew mortgages at this time are faced with monthly payments more than double what they are presently paying.

There are fewer business start-ups, and more business failures this year than at any time in our history. This is due to the fact that no one can afford to borrow at today's interest rates, either to start up a business or to maintain adequate inventories.

Public outcry has prompted the Liberal government to call a national caucus for September 15 to discuss the economy. It can only be hoped that sanity will prevail, and finance minister MacEachen will be forced to retreat from his disastrous economic and fiscal policies.

Galway/Cavendish meets

At the most recent meeting of Galway/Cavendish council, the following matters were considered:

Jim Pennington attended the meeting to discuss the sign-by-law in general and one area of the building by-law that needed some clarification or amendment. Pennington agreed to review the two by-laws and submit recommended changes to Council for their consideration.

Jim Brown attended the meeting to present to Council the proposed amended re-alignment for Highway 507 from the new fire hall in Cavendish to just beyond the Beaver Lake Road.

The proposed amendment for the re-alignment of Highway 507 work project #1521-71-00 (scheme C) from approximately the new fire hall entrance to the Beaver Lake Road which basically follows the existing travelled roadway was supported by Council.

Norm Gilmore attended the meeting to discuss the advantage of installing water conditioning facilities in the Legion water system which is used by some Galway rate-payers. Council suggested that before any decision was reached that a letter should be sent to all concerned rate-payers stating the cost involved and request that they inform the Township in writing if they agree to assume their share of the installation charges and on-going maintenance costs.

Staff Sergeant Fox and Constable Kellett attended the meeting to discuss the problem of unlicensed dirt bikes and dune buggies being driven on the highways and municipal roads in the Cavendish area. Sergeant Fox explained the action that has been taken over the past three weeks to solve this on-going problem and assured Council that they would continue to do so until the problem is resolved. He further requested that residents of the area contact them on a timely basis when they observe any unauthorized vehicles using public roads.

The Townships of Galway and Cavendish supported the amendments to the North Kawartha Official Plan with regard to severance policy as presented by Municipal Planning Consultants in their letter of July 11/81, with the following amendments:

- Section 1.51.1 - amend to indicate one severance in the Recreation Residential (RR) Zone.
- Section 1.51.2 - should read as follows:
the severed lot should represent infilling. Infilling in this instance shall be defined as residential development which occurs between existing residential buildings.

Council strongly supported Peterborough County's position and request to the Federal Government "that the via rail service from Havelock to Toronto" be retained.
